Dear Norene,

Just think our Freshman year has gone by. But haven't we had the times of our lives? Jeepers its been fun! I've really enjoyed such companionship as we have shared. We've really had lots of fun together. I'll always remember when I use to go with Marvin (Carl) and me with Wayne... We really thought we were "cool". Always remember when we were in Mr. Yoh's house watching T.V. and Roger was watching "us" Then the ventelator. Guess we still learn (the hard way) Always remember when you went with Bob Karen with Karl and me with Dick. Guess that's once you and I got the big head- Ha-- There is still an important thing remaining- and that is all the fun we had. - when I went with "John Smit." Karen with Rodney Bles and me with "David Wynn". We really have had fun dating with those kids- altho they do think their real cool. But it was real fun while it lasted. Norene I've shared so many secrets and shared [illegible] all along. You're a real pal and I really think your a swell kid. I wish you all the luck. Happiness and success the future may bring. To bad Mrs. Hare scared to learn our names straight- Ah well I like being called Norene once in a while. Always remember that's one thing we sure raised cain in. Always remember "forget" the time we were mad at each other at that basketball game. It's really silly now to look back at it, but we sure were serious at the time. May you always remain the same swell gal you are now and you'll really go places

The page is coming to an end - I could write more- but better not

SENIOR CLASS

Thirty-seven new names appeared on the school registry in the year of 1951 as the class of "55" made its entrance into the halls of A. U. H. S. Through the struggles of academic work, activities and participation in organizations twenty-nine "55" ers lasted into the senior year. Events in the class's school career to merit prominence were the Fr. and Sr. Plays, the Sneak, and the Proms, which were all high lighted by graduation. This occasion marks the dispersion of this group of scholars into the world of higher education, adventure, decision, profession and SUCCESS.

Holding the reins of the energetic senior class was Robert Munn being capably assisted by Dwayne Bennett. Greasing the wheels of finance, Amber McKay kept the ink in her pen running while Bernadine Price chalked off the miles of progress. All these were overseen by Mr. Tyson, the kingpin of the '55 wagon.

THE CLASS OF '56

As president of the "class of 56" Bobby Jo Webster presided over the junior class meetings. Ably assisting her were Marvin Patterson, vice president; Kaye Hammon, secretary; and Margie Salter, treasurer.

The important matters confronting the class were the Prom, class play, school paper staff, and the usual business faced by every class.

The class also contributed much to the school by furnishing officers to many of the organizations and providing a good many outstanding athletes in the major sports: football, basketball and baseball.

With the help and guidance of Miss Harrell the class had a successful year.

Dear Norene,

Here it is summer already. Hasn't this year gone by fast. But I don't know when I've had more fun. It won't be long until we will be Sophmores - not "those little green Freshmen" Norene, I really have enjoyed knowing you this year. A girl couldn't have any finer girls for friends than I have. Always remember all the fun we've had and all the mischief we have gotten into. (Remember the shower room?) Not us. Always remember our double and triple dates. You with Bob and me with Karl. I know you won't forget the Christmas formal. Then too we really had fun D. and T. datin' you with John, Marilyn with David, and me with Rodney. We really have had some swell times. Be sure to remember all the fun we've had in school too. I feel sorry for Harper sometimes. At least we made it through. Remember all the fun we had on Chorus days. Guilty? (You bet) Don't forget Mrs Lowell and her "darling little Cherubs". English was really a "BALL". Also remember Home Ec and Mrs. Moore. Well did you ever last the year out? I wish you all the joys and happiness you desire in the future. See ya Sis, it's summer now. Love to

GRIDIRON ACTION

The Adrian High football team, bolstered by their stellar quarterback, Jr. McGinnis, and such other stalwarts as Gail Cleverly, Jim Stoker, Diick Shenk, and many other fine ball players, was able to make a very fine showing this year by placing 3rd in a 9 team league with a record of 5 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie.

The team showed fine spirit throughout the season even though injuries hurt them considerably. Never during the year did the team display other than the fine sportsmanship for which Adrian High is noted.

These action shots were taken at the Adrian-Notus game played on the Adrian gridiron. The fighting Antelopes edged past the powerful Notus squad 14 to 6 for the third victory of the season. With the blocking of the line the backs were able to make considerable yardage through the Pirates's line. Also effective were McGinnis's passes to the halfbacks and ends.

This year Adrian's basketball team was composed of four seniors and three juniors. The Seniors, who will be greatly missed next year are Carl Lee Hill, Junior McGinnis, Bob Skinner and Ronald Thompson. Although losing more games than they won, many of the games were not decided until the final minutes of play. The team displayed a good brand of basketball and at all times maintained an excellent record of sportsmanship, team play, and scholarship. Next year's team will be built around the three juniors--Wayne Callister, Norman Price, and Bobby Parker--and this year's Junior Varsity team.

The JV's have proved to be a scrappy squad by coming from behind in the final moments of play to squeeze past many unexpecting quints. The team is comprised of ten sophomores and five freshmen. BASEBALL

Forming the nucleus of this years impressive baseball team are seven returning lettermen who promise to drive on to an even more successful season than last year when the record was well above the .500 mark in games won.

Sparked by 3 returning lettermen, Gail Cleverly, (Shot Put - 42') and our representatives to the state track meet, Dwayne Bennett and Gene Haney, this year's track and field team promise to rack up many points for Adrian this season.

GIRLS HOCKEY

Since its start in Adrian last year, field hockey has played an important part of the girls' athletic program. Four games were played with the College of Idaho along with an exhibition game at the half of a home football game.

Attributed with being one of the best high school field hockey teams seen by several authorities, the girls, and their coach, Miss Dean, deserve considerable praise.

COLOR TEAMS

Introducing a new high in sportsmanship and school spirit, the color team system of intramural activities was initiated this year. The students were divided into four sections with the attempt to have on them an equal amount of athletic ability. Each team is made up of students from all four years of school.

A system of allotting points for participation in noon games and also in gym tournaments in P. E. was made to determine placement of teams. A few of the activities students entered to earn points for their team were basketball, checkers, horseshoes, ping-pong, football and badminton tournaments.

Since its introduction in 1953 to A. U. H. S. by the able Mr. Tolliver, Thespian Troupe 645 has increased from 12 to 30 in 1955. Named after Thespis, the Greek who introduced the mask to drama, the Thespians has a membership made up of high school actors and actresses and those who have an interest in furthering dramatics. Affiliated with the National Organization, Troupe 645 has helped in the productions of many plays and entertainment. Assisting the hopefuls from inexperienced players to well seasoned actors is Mr. Tyson, sponsor of the group.

The FFA, one of the most important of the organizations at Adrian, has a backbone of those boys who have an interest in agriculture. Future Farmers actually get experience in agriculture and are faced with the problems confronted by farmers through the vo-ag program. The boys manage and keep records on projects which range from a single animal to a complete farming operation.

Robert Munn's Blue Ribbon steers lead the parade of outstanding projects in the chapter. The animal being examined is the grand champion steer of the FFA division, Malhuer Co. Fair and received the highest price paid at the Fat Stock Sale. Weighing 1,015 lbs. it brought 55¢ a lb. or a total of $558.26.

Much of the success and activity of the F. F. A. is due to its officers. Heading this group is Jimmy Stoker, a man of experience with a state farmer degree and two years on the parliamentary team under his belt. George Jelinek holds the office of vice-president and David Witty, stenographer of the sextet, is the man who writes the minutes. Fred Schafer sits on the money box while Robert Munn, reporter, takes the news events. Keeping the room comfortable and caring for chapter equipment is Dick Shenk, sentinel.

In a decade of teaching at Adrian Mr. Reuter, better known as "Henry", has overseen the supervised farming careers of eight state farmers and nurtured a livestock judging team to win the state judging championship. The team earned the right to represent Oregon in the National contests held in Kansas City in 1951.

The chapter parliamentary team put a lot of study into "Roberts Rules of Order" and placed second in the district contest. They also made a good showing at the sectional meet. The team consisted of David Chaney, Chairman; Jim Stoker, David Witty, Bob Montgomery, Earl Wilson and Ronald Peterson. George Jelinek is substituting for Wilson who was unable to be present for the picture.

Furthering girls' athletics and encouraging sportsmanship and good conduct are the aims of the Girls' Athletic Association.

In order to earn her award each year a girl must participate in three sport seasons with five games in each one. In addition it is necessary for her to engage in certain activities outside of school.

The main social event of the year was the Christmas formal co-sponsored with the Lettermen.

Camping at Payette Lakes for a weekend provided the highlight for this school term.

Part of the success of this organization is due to the time and interest spent by their advisor, Miss Dean.

Leading the paper staff was Edith Matthews, assisted by Vanae Stoker. The matter of publishing was taken care of by Kaye Hammon and Bobby Parker. Wesley Schlegel was the artist and Bobby Jo Webster and Jerry Cleverly were the sports editors. Roger Howes and George Jelinek were responsible for circulation. HOMECOMING

Following a noble Adrian tradition, the football team chose lovely Amber McCay as Queen with Karen McKinley and Bernadine Price as attendants. And to make it a successful night the Antelopes beat Middleton 19-0.

Playing in "Great Smokies," Bill Looney, an eligible widower, woos Janet Parker, a widow, but complications evolve because of their children, Margaret Butler and Sharon Fox, and Frank Pratt and Nancy Cleverly. Sally Reed chases Jimmy Packwood while Russell Bassett plays a mountaineer to complete the cast.

ANTELOPE ANTICS

This year the "Antics" have been enlarged from a variety show as originated last year by the Thespians, to a two night feature of one act plays performed by each of the four classes. On the first night, March 11, the seniors presented a farce entitled "Aunt Miranda's Will" which swept the audience with roars of laughter. Also presented was "Great Smokies," a hillbilly comedy, put on by the sophomores, that kept 'em in stitches.

On April 25 the remaining two classes, juniors and freshmen, presented "His First Shave," another rollicking farce, and "The Little Red School House," a sophisticated comedy.

The "Antics" gives the Thespians a chance to practice their skills to the enjoyment of all.

JUNIOR PLAY

The mystery comedy, "Stranger in the Night," was presented by the junior class, on March 25.

Plotted around murder with the name of the victim hidden in a gift found in a gift shop owned by Silvia Lee and Mabel Crane, this drama's conflict is built up by Grant Terry, a newspaper columnist who overhears the plan and seeks to expose the conspirators.

After three acts of swift action and mounting suspense the would-be assassin was caught and the play came to a thrilling climax as the large audience applauded with satisfaction.

Part of the success must be attributed to the director, Mr. Tyson, and the student director, Edith Matthews.

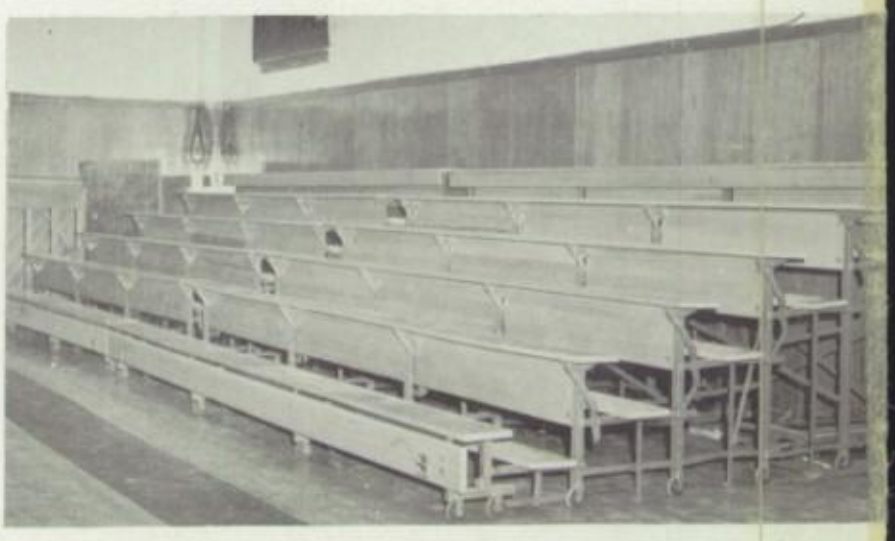
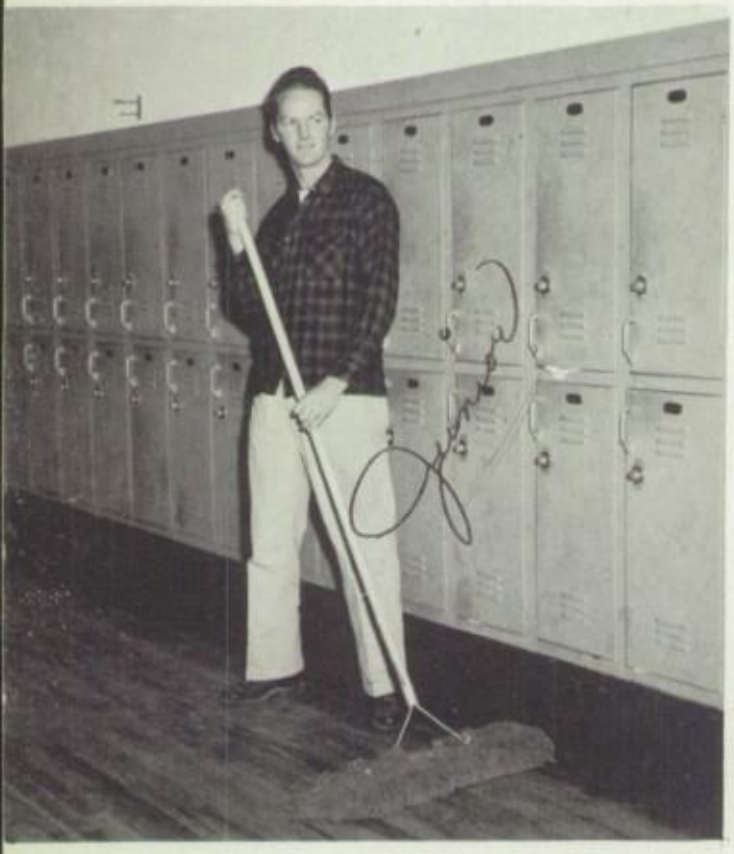
This is the proposed $55,000 addition to be built on the east side of the building. This extension will house the science and music departments, above, and a boys dressing room below.

The plans for revising the rooms in the school are; to take out the partition between the present girl's and boy's dressing room and making a larger dressing room for the girls and extending the Home Ec. room into the present science room.

Purchased this year by the school district at a cost of $1750, the new bleachers have not only added to the seating capacity and the over-all appearance of the gym but have influenced school spirit.

We are looking forward to the purchase of two more sections of these folding bleachers next year.





A typical pose of Junior Matthews is this one with the broom in hand. Keeping floors clean, building warm, and students comfortable are just a few of the many jobs undertaken by Junior in his duty as a building superintendent.
